

The diagram illustrates the relationship between different types of page margins and format specifications. It features three nested rectangular frames: a red outer frame, a blue middle frame, and a white inner frame. Three horizontal arrows point from the right towards the left, each originating from a text label and pointing to a specific margin line. The top arrow is black and points to the red frame. The middle arrow is red and points to the blue frame. The bottom arrow is blue and points to the white frame.
